Pastors from New Life (Brentwood) and Golden Hills churches were there, as well as Gary Kingsbury from Bay Area Rescue Mission, representatives from the Multifaith Action Team, and several women who gave testimony about their experiences of being homeless in Antioch and having turned their lives around at the New Life Center.

Cheryl O'Connor from HomeAid Northern California was the key speaker, and she told how HomeAid partners with community groups to build shelters and other facilities, and highlighted some of their efforts. Teri House has been involved in funding or participating in several of these high-quality projects over the past 15 years.

If HomeAid selected this as a project, they would contribute about ½ of the total cost of materials and construction. They are often involved in maintaining and remodeling projects they have built. Cheryl emphasized that they are looking for strong local leadership that is in the project for the long haul. Mr. Kingsbury requested that HomeAid work with an architect on a design, and help the group come up with a cost estimate, and this seemed to be the next step.

- Teri House presented information about the Council on Homelessness at a meeting of the Contra Costa County Leadership Academy, Homeless Project Team. The group convened representatives from several cities to hear what is happening in the County on homelessness, and invited them to join in groups to work on specific issues. Many agreed to attend the next quarterly General Membership meeting of the Council on Homelessness, which will be October 16, 10-12 p.m. at the ZA Meeting Room, 30 Muir Road, Martinez.
- Please encourage people to volunteer and donate to Delta Veteran's Group to support the 3-day Stand Down On The Delta event for homeless and very low-income Veterans.
